SERIAL PUBLICATIONS CITED IN THIS VOLUME

This list gives the abbreviated name of each serial cited in this volume of Botanical Abstracts. The abbreviations have been planned to be self-explanatory and no key has been deemed necessary. It will be noted that names of persons and places are always given without abbreviations. In some cases the place of publication of a serial is given in brackets at the end of the abbreviated name. It is planned that future lists of this sort will uniformly include the bracketed place-name excepting where it is a part of the name of the serial itself, in which case the place-name is without brackets.—Since it is frequently difficult for the reader to know what to regard as the initial word of the name of a serial publication, the alphabetical list has been enlarged to include practically all non-initial words, and these additional entries refer to the serial numbers shown for the complete entries. Thus, the abbreviation Absts. refers to 42, which is Bot. Absts., etc.—Most of the complete entries are followed (1) by a black-face Arabic numeral and a colon or (2) by an Arabic numeral in ordinary type, a period and then another Arabic numeral (or a dash) and the letter p, for pages. The first case indicates that the volume-number (black-face) is given and that the first and last page numbers of the article are to follow the colon in a citation. When a Roman numeral or a letter, and a comma (both in black-face type) precede the black-face Arabic numeral, the Roman numeral or letter refers to the series. The black-face Arabic numeral always refers to the volume-number, whether within a series or not. In some cases the year takes the place of a volume-number, when the volumes bear no other designation. The second case indicates that the pagination is separate in each issue; the Arabic numeral (ordinary type) represents the number of the issue, which is followed, in a citation, by the total number of pages and the letter p, in Italics.—It is hoped that future lists of this sort will be much more perfect than the present one. It is also hoped that a complete set of rules for making citations may eventually be published by Bot. Absts.—Ed.-in-Chief.
